BENEFITS OF BEING A MEMBER OF AECl

If you, as an electrical contractor, want to be part of a forward-looking and vibrant body of like-minded professionals, then you should join the AECl. The all-embracing support services provided by the Association are clearly illustrated throughout the website www.aeci.ie. Take the time to study them. If you do, you'll undoubtedly want to share in the benefits AECl membership entails.

Joining could not be simpler. Just fill out the membership form online or in this brochure and email or post it back to us. We will confirm your application by email and then you can forward your Subscription cheque by post or you can now pay by credit card over the phone or bank transfer, whichever suits you best. Alternatively you can contact us directly on 01 610 2715. The total cost of your annual subscription is recognized by the Revenue Commissioners as allowable for income tax purposes and should give a tax adjustment per annum.

The AECl is the largest representative Trade Association in the Irish Electrical Industry. It offers a comprehensive range of technical and business support services and facilities for members. The support services and facilities are constantly being expanded, with particular emphasis on raising the standard of electrical work, and better equipping members to compete in the ever-changing economic climate of today. Whether it is a commercial, industrial, or domestic project, assistance and advice is available at all times.

AIMS OF AECI

The objects for which the Association was founded are outlined on the first page of the AECI Book of Rules. Briefly, they are to project and promote the interests of members in any way concerning their trading. With this in view, the Executive Council – which is elected each year – is constantly endeavoring to obtain benefits for Association members in the pursuance of their business. To achieve these aims members are represented by delegates to many bodies and organizations. Among the most important of these are: The National Joint Industrial Council; at which conditions of employment and wage structures are determined;

SOLAS, where conditions of training and education of apprentices are established;

AECI has one director on the board of RECI (Safe Electric)
